

MacArthur Museum of Arkansas Military History

Date: November 10, 2014

Reception and Book Signing

5:30—7:30 p.m.

An Evening with General Wesley K. Clark, USA (Ret.)

At the MacArthur Museum of Arkansas Military History

Second only to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, Wesley Clark ranks among the highest military leaders from Arkansas. During his 34 years in the U.S. Army, he rose to the rank of four-star general and was among the top tier of the U.S. Joint Chiefs of Staff. As Supreme Allied Commander, Clark led NATO's first major combat action in Kosovo.

Please join us as the MacArthur Museum of Arkansas Military History honors Gen. Clark with a temporary exhibit on his life and service. Tickets for this fundraising event are $125 per person, which includes an autographed copy of General Clark's newest book, Don't Wait for the Next War: A Strategy for American Growth and Global Leadership. Proceeds support the MacArthur Museum of Arkansas Military History, created to preserve our state's rich military heritage. The museum, a program of Little Rock Parks and Recreation, relates the military contributions of Arkansans from territorial times to the present.
